Notification of changes New packing of ferrite cores EFD20/10/7

EPCOS will be changing the packing design of the ferrite cores EFD20/10/7 in material N49 (ordering code B66417G0000X149) to increase the safety of this product during transportation. Practical experience has shown that N49 material is more liable to crack during transportation than other ferrite materials.

Instead of packing the cores in styrofoam trays with cavity rows, where several cores are packed together in one row, the cores will be packed in styrofoam trays with single cavities for each core half. The quantity per packing unit (PU) will change from 1260 pieces/PU to 1250 pieces/PU.

This change will have no effect on the quality or performance of the cores involved.

Date of introduction: November 1, 2008
