Dear Customer

Subject: Announcing Tape and Reel Process Change

Honeywell Sensing and Productivity Solutions (S&PS) announced that it has moved the Tape and Reel process in-house in Nanjing, China. This is a change in packing location only, there will be no change to the internal die or form, fit and function of the sensors listed below.

Below products will continue to meet Honeywell functional specifications and stringent quality requirements.

This change has already been implemented and will apply to all current orders and future deliveries.
