

Declaration of California Proposition 65

Xiamen Hongfa Electroacoustic Co.,Ltd. accounts on information from its supply chain to declare if the products contain any Prop 65 chemicals. Upon customer request and using supply chain declarations, Hongfa can provide a list of Prop 65 chemicals that may be contained in supplied products.

Since most of Hongfa's products are electronic components and do not touch the skin directly, California Prop 65 does not apply to Hongfa's relays and other products. Considering the wide range of applications in which Hongfa's products may be used, customers should take the responsibility of investigation on the application in which they would deploy or use Hongfa products and make their own decisions regarding Prop 65 obligations to employees and consumers in California.

Provided the customer determines that our product could expose a California consumer to a Prop 65 chemical above Safe Harbor levels, Hongfa will issue an appropriate Prop 65 warning accordingly.
